be on hand to help with plant selections, yard ornaments and garden supplies. Sounds like a great sale and for a good cause.

Also, a very special rummage sale will be hosted by United Paws of Tillamook April 30-May 1 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Bay City Odd Fellows Hall on the corner of Hayes Oyster Drive and Fourth Street. Much of the merchandise will be from the recently closed Wheeler Dealer store in Tillamook.

The recent car wash and baked goods sale held by United Paws was a successful event, thanks to the many volunteers.

There is an adorable little 10-pound terrier that needs a foster home. The veterinary clinic calls him Dollar, and he is indeed a sweet doll.

Dollar had been abused and is in need of surgery on his hind leg, where he was possibly kicked and sustained damage to his knee. He has to be in foster care after surgery, with his recuperation expected to take five to six weeks. He has had all his shots and been neutered.

United Paws will pay for his surgery, but he has to go to Astoria at least twice – once for surgery and once for a post-op follow-up. United Paws will take care of that part, if necessary.

Please call Maria Magly at 503-812-0105 or call me and I'll see that she gets the message.

Dollar is blond with a tad bit of white. Please call if you can help this little guy. He deserves a break.

Also regarding pets, starting April 30 you can buy dog and cat stamps at the post office or online, which helps buy food for shelter pets.

Lisa Skinn of Rockaway Beach is going to teach women home improvement tips at her home. There is a session called "What's Your Hang-Up?" You can learn to hang towel bars, pictures, even drywall.

Other classes are on basic plumbing repair, how to build a basic box, tiling and mosaics, and painting techniques.

They cost $10 if you sign up early, $15 at the door. There is a $5 fee for the box and tiling; you get to take home a project. For more info, call Lisa at 503-355-2514. The classes, starting now, are held in Rockaway Beach.

Don't forget to save the receipts from Food Basket in Garibaldi for our library.

Birthday greetings to Ellen Cocanower, Jean Peters and Pat Shotwell.

The annual VFW Post 2848 and Beta Sigma Phi plant and craft sale and flea market will be May 1 from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Bay City Community Center, next to the Bay City Library.

Refreshments will be available while you browse. A free tree will go to the early-bird folks or until supplies run out.

Tillamook Gardeners will
